

Reid-Hillview Airport Association

The association has three objectives:

- to foster good relations with the communities surrounding the airport,
- to inform and educate members on issues affecting airport operations and safety,
- to keep Reid-Hillview open!

Reid-Hillview Airport Day

Reid-Hillview Airport Day invites the airport's neighbors to see airport operations at first hand, and to experience the joy of flight. The 20¢/lb rides are very popular, and several local residents have found careers in aviation after their first flight on Reid-Hillview Airport Day.

We use this event to educate and to share our passion for aviation. Various organizations and vendors operate booths. The Tuskegee Airmen provide a good example, with representatives on hand to educate the public on the contribution of African American military airmen during and after WWII.

Money raised from Airport Day, plus membership dues, are used to fund a variety of scholarships and other causes, mostly in the local community.

Reid-Hillview Airport Association Scholarship Fund

Scholarships are awarded annually to five local students who are going on to College. The process of choosing an eligible student was established by the RHVAASF committee. One student from each of the following local high schools is chosen to receive a scholarship: Silver Creek, Mount Pleasant, James Lick, William C. Overfelt and the Evergreen High School. Thanks to generous donations and receipts from the Airport Day the scholarships are now worth $500 each.

San Jose State Scholarship Fund for Women in Aviation Conference

This helps selected women students attend the annual Women in Aviation Conference.

The San Jose State University Precision Flight Team

They are a dedicated, self funded, team of young aviators; men and women who strive for precision, perfection and excellence in all of their flying and ground-skills competitions. We wish them continued success in all their competitions. www.sjsuflightteam.com
